ΤΜΗΜΑ 1

ΔΗΛΩΣΗ ΠΡΟΣΒΑΣΙΜΟΤΗΤΑΣ

Η παρούσα δήλωση προσβασιμότητας εφαρμόζεται στον ιστότοπο: <https://kaisariani.gr/>

Κατάσταση συμμόρφωσης

Ο παρών ιστότοπος <https://kaisariani.gr> συνάδει μερικώς με το ν. 4727/2020 ως ισχύει, λόγω των παρακάτω περιπτώσεων σε κρίσιμα σημεία σφαλμάτων, σύμφωνα με το WCAG 2.1 (AA) και στα μερικά κριτήρια όπως :

1. 1.3.1 (Info and Relationships), της αρχής «Αντιληπτικότητα»
2. 1.4.4 (Contrast (Minimum) «Ευδιάκριτο»
3. 2.4.4 Bypass Blocks - Level A «Χρηστικότητα»
4. 4.1.2 (Name, Role, Value) - Level A «Στιβαρότητα»
καθώς και σε πιθανά σημεία σφαλμάτων, σύμφωνα με το WCAG 2.1 (AA), στα κριτήρια:
5. 1.1.1 (Non-text Content), της αρχής «Αντιληπτικότητα»
6. 4.1.2 (Name, Role, Value) - Level A «Στιβαρότητα»

Σύμφωνα με τις ανωτέρω αναλύσεις τα αποτελέσματα του διεξοδικού ελέγχου του εργαλείου useit (<https://ace.useit.se/ax/aceit.php>) όπου η πλειοψηφία των σφαλμάτων, εντοπίζεται στα ίδια κριτήρια προσβασιμότητας (κριτήρια 1.1.1, 1.3.1, 2.4.4, και 4.1.2 του WCAG 2.1).

3161137	for m5	4 - Low	4.1. 2	https://kaisariani.gr/o-topos-mas/athlitis-mos/	Placeholder text not repeated in any other descriptions associated with the form field

The placeholder attribute can pose a problem to users since not all assistive technology presents it to the user. Another problem is that the text often disappears when focus is set in the form field, something that makes it hard to read for users that needs significant magnification. We recommend that important information is repeated in the label or another description associated with the form field. In this case we don't seem to find the placeholder text in the label or in any other description associated with the form field.

Another problem is that the text often disappears when focus is set in the form field, something that makes it hard to read for users that needs significant magnification. We recommend that important information is repeated in the label or another description associated with the form field. In this case we don't seem to find the placeholder text in the label or in any other description associated with the form field. The easiest way is to use the attribute scope to show if the header is a row header (scope="row") or a column header (scope="col"). If the header cell describes cells in multiple rows or columns, or just some of the cells in the row or column, the header cell needs a unique id value, and all table cells who should be associated with that header cell should refer to that id value in the headers attribute. The easiest way is to use the attribute scope to show if the header is a row header (scope="row") or a column header (scope="col"). If the header cell describes cells in multiple rows or columns, or just some of the cells in the row or column, the header cell needs a unique id value, and all table cells who should be associated with that header cell should refer to that id value in the headers attribute. Another problem is that the text often disappears when focus is set in the form field, something that makes it hard to read for users that needs significant magnification. We recommend that important information is repeated in the label or another description associated with the form field. In this case we don’t seem to find the placeholder text in the label or in any other description associated with the form field. 3162689	form5	4 - Low	4.1.2	https://kaisariani.gr/foreis-sylogoi/sylogoi-goneon/	Placeholder text not repeated in any other descriptions associated with the form field	The placeholder attribute can pose a problem to users since not all assistive technology presents it to the user. Another problem is that the text often disappears when focus is set in the form field, something that makes it hard to read for users that needs significant magnification. Another problem is that the text often disappears when focus is set in the form field, something that makes it hard to read for users that needs significant magnification. We recommend that important information is repeated in the label or another description associated with the form field. In this case we don’t seem to find the placeholder text in the label or in any other description associated with the form field.
